Come and learn about the Countryside at this year's Moreton Show

Don't miss your opportunity to come and learn all about the countryside at this year's Moreton Show.

There will be plenty of hands on activities for visitors to take part in, at the Butler Sherborn Countryside & Heritage Area. Throughout the day informative demonstrations including roof thatching, Cotswold stone tiling, cider making, spinning and weaving will take place by local crafts folk.

Local volunteer Di Dewbery comments, "The Countryside & Heritage area was an incredibly popular addition to the 2009 Moreton Show, so this year we are expanding the area and introducing even more exciting features."

Go to www.moretonshow.co.uk for full details of this years' show, and to access the shows new online entry system.
